SIOP’s Solutions Series is Seeking Authors!

The Solutions Series is a new SIOP book series that was launched by the Practice Series editorial board this year.

What is the goal of the Solutions Series? To produce focused, prescriptive volumes that translate the data- and practice-based knowledge of I-O psychology into practical, “how to” advice for dealing with cutting-edge organizational issues and problems.

What will Solutions Series volumes be like? They will be short (75–100 printed pages) and written in a “consumer friendly” format. Volumes will contain tools, case studies, and lessons learned to make I-O psychology principles and practices come alive for the reader.

Where will Solutions Series volumes be marketed? They will be marketed broadly in venues that will be highly accessible to organizational decision-makers and managers.

Who should write Solutions Series volumes? IO psychologists who have extensive experience conducting applied work in organizations and who are interested in sharing their knowledge and expertise for addressing key issues and problems. Practitioners, who may or may not have published their work previously, should consider writing for this series. Co-authorship arrangements between industry-based practitioners and academic-based practitioners are welcome.

Who is on the Solutions Series editorial board? Elaine Pulakos, Editor, Personnel Decisions Research Institutes, Ben Dowell, Bristol-Myers Squibb, Jerry Behoe, AT&T, Lise Saari, IBM, Jeff Schippmann, PepsiCo, and Mark Teachout, USAA.

Interested in authoring a volume? Contact Elaine Pulakos at 703-523-7885 or via e-mail at Elaine.Pulakos@personneldecisions.com or any member of the Editorial Board to discuss topics and obtain additional information.
