

AccuRater Inc. Seeking Validation Partners For Recently Upgraded Test Products

Partners in the following industries are being sought:

- Telecommunications
- Cable and Wireless Services
- Financial Services
- Package Delivery Services
- Manufacturing
- Insurance
- Transportation Services
- Retail

If you have an interest in participating in a validation study with AccuRater Inc., please contact Berta Pettis.

AccuRater Inc., founded in 1985 by Stephen Checkosky, specializes in the development and validation of computer-based work sample skills assessments.

AccuRater tests are constructed around work activities actually performed on the job. They are not in question-and-answer multiple-choice format. Instead, the applicant has an opportunity to demonstrate his/her work-related skills in a realistic job context.

AccuRater is currently seeking validation partners for industry-specific versions of our recently upgraded test products. Target jobs include:

- ✓ Customer Contact positions, including Sales and Customer Service
- ✓ Administrative positions, including Office Management and Analyst
- ✓ Technical positions, including Inside and Outside Craft
