A Quick Guide to SIOP Branding

Preferred: This is the “official” logo and should be our go-to logo.

Stacked: This format should be used when the preferred format will not fit or will look awkward.

Without Taglines: These are acceptable when space dictates, in order to keep consistent with other logo presentations, or when the logo would be presented too small to read the tagline.

Acronym: The acronym should be avoided on its own for outside audiences who will not know who we are based on the context. The acronym is especially helpful for use in small spaces where it will be very small.

Icon: The icon can be used as a website favicon or other similar special circumstances

If you need to put the SIOP logo on a dark or patterned background, it may sometimes be acceptable to use the white version of the SIOP logo. Please defer the Executive Director and/or Communications Manager to decide when this is appropriate.

There may be instances when a printer needs a two-color logo. This logo is available for such circumstances.
