Dine Around Presented by CEB

Thanks to the generous sponsorship of CEB, this year’s LEC features a progressive dinner at three restaurants in downtown Chicago. It offers a unique, fun, and exciting way to experience different restaurants, network with colleagues, and tour Chicago. Guests enjoy hors d’oeuvres at the first restaurant, the main course at a second restaurant, and dessert at a third.
From the Consortium Chair

Welcome to Chicago and the 10th Annual SIOP Leading Edge Consortium. This event promises to continue the consortium’s fine tradition of high-quality and innovative programming in an environment especially suited for interaction.

This year we are pleased to present expert advice from top business leaders and scholars on succession management. I want to thank them for sharing their time and expertise with us. I would also like to thank you, the attendees, for sharing this experience.

A special thank you goes to the organizing committee: Eric Braverman, Alexis Fink, Alberto Galue, Arlene Green, Will Shepherd, and Paul Yost. Their help in planning this event was invaluable. Finally, I would like to thank our sponsors for making this wonderful event a reality. I hope you will find this LEC to be entertaining and stimulating, as well as educational.

What Is SIOP?

The Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology (SIOP) is an international professional organization with an annual membership of more than 8,000 industrial-organizational (I-O) psychologists. SIOP’s mission is to enhance human well-being and performance in organizational and work settings by promoting the science, practice, and teaching of I-O psychology. The Society provides a platform for scientists, academics, consultants, and practitioners to collaborate, implement, and evaluate cutting-edge solutions to workplace challenges.

Industrial-organizational psychology is the scientific study of working and the application of that science to workplace issues facing individuals, teams, and organizations. The scientific method is applied to investigate issues of critical relevance to individuals, businesses, and society, such as testing and assessment, staffing, performance management, employee stress and well-being, teamwork, organizational development and change management, work-life balance, and leadership. Through these efforts, I-O psychologists advance the science of work, leading to smarter and more innovative evidence-based HR and organizational tools and solutions. For more information about SIOP and I-O psychology, visit www.siop.org.

8:30 – 9:00 AM Welcome and Introduction
LEC Chair Elaine Pulakos, PDRI, a CEB company

9:00 – 9:45 AM Keynote Address: Marc Effron, President, Talent Strategy Group

We hold the power to create tremendously successful organizations overflowing with high quality talent. However, if CEOs and boards are to be believed, our efforts are falling short of that mark. What’s our accountability to fill organizations with great talent and the surest path to get there?

9:45 – 10:45 AM Planning: The Strategy Session
The Strategy Session will include stories from three organizations about how they linked their succession strategies to their business strategies. Discussion will include how to involve and gain sponsorship from senior stakeholders and how to link it to strategic workforce planning and other talent management processes.

• Kelly Burke, Payless Shoes
• Timothy Murphy, TE Connectivity
• Caroline Pike, Ascension Health

10:45 – 11:15 AM Break – Grand Foyer

11:15 – 12:15 PM Planning: Designing the Process
An organization’s vision, strategies, and culture help guide the design of a succession management system that will successfully identify and develop its future leaders. This session explores some key decisions and the consequences of the decisions that need to be addressed when designing and implementing a high-impact program. We will begin with the introduction of 7 topic areas that will be addressed in breakouts with expert facilitators (15 minutes). The remainder of the time will be spent in small group facilitated sessions.

Ready Now, Ready Later, Never Ready: Why Succession Planning Falls Short on Development (and What Might Be Done About It)

Experience drives leadership development and succession planning is one process that influences who gets what experience. But our great developer bosses tell us that HR programs and processes frequently get in the way of development. What’s going on here and what can be done to make succession planning more developmental?
2:00 – 2:50 PM Summary
