Your Membership Benefits

The three main benefit areas for SIOP members are:

Knowledge: We keep you apprised of the latest issues facing the profession with publications and other resources.

Connection: We create networking opportunities to help you expand your reach and contacts in the I-O field.

Investment: We make furthering your I-O career and education more affordable through discounts and funding opportunities.
Membership Benefit: Knowledge

SIOP membership includes free subscriptions to:

Industrial and Organizational Psychology: Perspectives on Science and Practice (IOP), the official quarterly journal of I-O psychology

The Industrial-Organizational Psychologist (TIP), our digital, quarterly news publication

Organizational Science, Translation and Application Series, coming soon!

Newsbriefs, our monthly member e-newsletter

We also provide an affordable subscription opportunity to:

SIOP Research Access (SRA), which includes three EBSCO databases (offering thousands of I-O-related articles published in the leading psychology and business journals) as well as the SIOP Learning Center
Membership Benefit: Connection

In person: SIOP holds two annual meetings that bring members together.

The Annual Conference gathers over 5000 attendees each spring to network and share research across the breadth of I-O issues.

The Leading Edge Consortium takes place each fall and features a smaller group of attendees focusing on one hot topic in the field.

Local I-O groups may already be meeting in your area or you can start a group yourself!

In the cloud: SIOP offers online services and digital media, making us a 24/7 member resource.

The members-only membership directory contains member biographies, contact information and interest areas, enabling members to network with collaborators and mentors.

SIOP engages with members on social media:

Our History

The current Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology, Inc. can trace its roots to the founding of the American Psychological Association (APA) in 1892.

Nearly one hundred years later, in 1982, Division 14 of the APA incorporated as the Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology, Inc. (SIOP).

SIOP continues to represent as Division 14 of the APA and is also an organizational affiliate of the Association for Psychological Science (APS), but is an autonomous organization. It is a single, international organization without regional, state, local, or student chapters.

Governance

SIOP is governed by an elected Executive Board.

Additionally, numerous committees exist to carry out the directives of the Executive Board.

SIOP members fill the Executive Board, Committee Chair, and committee member leadership roles on a volunteer basis. Serving on a SIOP committee helps the organization greatly and is also an excellent résumé-booster.
